PREFACE

The Twentieth Century has brought with it not only a great advancement and change in the mechanical world thru the introduction of the automobile, radio, airplane and the various labor-saving and confort-giving devices but also has brought a widening and expanding outlook for "We Moderns". No longer is distance any barrier to the rapid spread of information or the dispersment of individuals to many different places and homes.

With the convenience of modern transportation and communication, the population of this nation of ours has moved about to meet the growing demands of different communities. Our nation has emerged from that period when the old country store was the source of all information concerning the outside world and the family circle around the old coal stove was the fount of all ancestral backgrounds. No longer do we have the reminiscence of past generations nor the eventful occasions when "our relation" made those awe-inspiring and never to be forgotten visits.

With the divergence from the close family circles and the migration of various lines of families, our ancestral background is becoming lost, and we are each swallowed up within the maelstrom of living for today with its numerous parties, business responsibilities, and "mile-a-minute" activities.

This history is not only an attempt to carry back a few ancestral lines but mostly to bring down to date the various descendants of common ancestors. It is a never ending task to keep a perpetual history going, for the newer generations will very rapidly and completely push the present and past generations farther and farther into the darkness of the past. This record will likely be out-of-date before it reaches your hands because of the frequency of new arrivals and departures

Xerocoted 1971

The major part of the early record has been obtained through the information furnished by Mrs. Helen Myers Kyes in her genealogical publication entitled, "John Clarke of Hartford and Saybrook, Conn., and Some of His Descendants", which was published in 1912. The remainder of this record was obtained only after repeated checking, and corresponding until every branch was brought down to date.

Immediately following this preface will be given a short sketch of the relationship of the descendants shown in this history with John Alden and Priscilla Mullins, our Mayflower ancestors. Following the sketch of John Alden appears verbatim the preface to Mrs. Kyes' record as it appeared in her publication.

In the back of this history is a geographical index listing the location of certain items of interest or referring to some residences of those listed herein, which is arranged according to states. The number appearing after each city refers to the same number appearing in the history proper where the residence or item of interest may be found.

On page 46 will be found an Addenda containing information that was received after the main part of this history had been printed.

It is only with the inestimable help of Mrs. Kyes' record and the kind assistance of many of those listed in this history who have cooperated in securing or helping to secure information to complete this record that has made its publication possible. It is hoped that it is as complete and as correct as possible at the present date, and if any errors do appear, or any corrections, alterations, or additions should be made, it would be appreciated if they were reported so that any further compilation could be improved and brought up to date.

JOHN ALDEN

John Alden was one of those Pilgrims who emigrated to America in the Mayflower in 1620 and founded Plymouth Colony. He was a settler of Duxbury, Massachusetts where he lived most of his life. From 1633 until 1675 he was an assistant to the Governor of the Colony and frequently acted as governor. At the time of his death on September 12, 1687, he was the last male survivor of the Mayflower Company. He is remembered chiefly because of a popular legend put into verse as "The Courtship of Miles Standish" by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, concerning the courtship of Priscilla Mullins, whom he married in 1623, after having wooed her first for his friend, Miles Standish. John Alden was better educated than many of the others because of his service in official capacities most of his life. John Alden had eleven children and the first, Elizabeth, was the first white child born in New England.

Elizabeth Alden, daughter of John and Priscilla Alden was born early in 1623. She married William Paybody on December 26, 1644. She died at ninety-three years of age at Little Compton, R. I. She had twelve children and her youngest child was Lydia Paybody.

Lydia Paybody, daughter of William and Elizabeth Paybody, was born at Duxbury, Massachusetts on April 3, 1667, and died in Old Killingsworth (now Clinton), Connecticut on July 13, 1748. She was married to Daniel Grinnell, who was born in Portsmouth, R. I., in 1665, son of Daniel and Mary Grinnell. Daniel Grinnell died on January 7, 1740 or 1741. Their first son was Peabody or Pabodie Grinnell.

Peabody or Pabodie Grinnell, son of Daniel and Lydia Grinnell, was born in 1691 at Saybrook, Connecticut. Mr. Grinnell married Ruth Nettleton and their daughter, Lydia Grinnell, was born August 28, 1723.

Lydia Grinnell, daughter of Peabody and Ruth Grinnell, was born August 28, 1723, and married Joseph Spencer, who was born April 18, 1720. Their son, Joseph, was born August 12, 1744.

Joseph Spencer, son of Joseph and Lydia Spencer, was born August 12, 1744, in Saybrook and was married in 1769 to Elizabeth Clark. Elizabeth Clark was born April 9, 1748, daughter of John and Elizabeth Clark who appear as No. 21 in this history. Elizabeth Spencer died June 25, 1777 and Joseph Spencer later married Lucy Post. The first child of Joseph and Elizabeth Spencer was Nabby or Abigail Spencer.

Nabby or Abigail Spencer, daughter of Joseph and Elizabeth Spencer, was born January 14, 1770, and was married to Beaumont Clark, who appears in this history as No. 30, on May 21, 1789.

JOHN CLARKE OF HARTFORD AND SAYBROOK, CONNECTICUT, AND SOME OF HIS DESCENDANTS

John Clarke, Puritan Ancestor of the family whose record is here compiled, is believed to have come from Great Munden, Hertfordshire, England in 1632. He first settled at Newtowne, (now Cambridge), Massachusetts, but removed with Hooker's Company to Hartford, Conn., in 1636, where John Clarke's name is on the monument erected to the first settlers of Hartford, in Center Church Cemetery.

He was a soldier in the Pequot War in 1637, and served as a juror in Hartford in 1641. He removed with his son-in-law, William Pratt, to Saybrook, Conn., in 1645 or 1646. In 1647 he was appointed by the General Court in company with Capt. John Mason, to carry on the building of the fort at Saybrook.

He was one of the nineteen petitioners to Charles II. in 1662, for the Charter secured by Governor Winthrop. This charter was hidden in the famous Charter Oak, and is now in a fine state of preservation in a glass front safe in the State Capitol at Hartford. John Clarke was one of the most prominent citizens of Saybrook. There seems to have been a division of the church in 1662 or 1663, and he, with a number of others, moved to Norwich, Conn., and established a church there.

Shortly after this, he removed to Milford, Conn., where his brother George was living, and on September 24, 1665, he received his dismissal from the Church in Norwich, and was admitted to the church in Milford, where he died, leaving a will made in 1673. He was a large land owner.

"On June 4, 1673, Mr. John Clarke and Sergeant Daniel Buchingham were ordained Ruling Elders." Mr. Clarke died February 5, 1674. (Quoted from Milford Church Records).

All the facts given in regard to the first five generations in this record, are taken from copies of family records furnished me by Mr. John E. Bull, of Centerbrook, Conn., and Mr. Henry I. Clarke, of Saybrook, Conn., without whose courteous help it is doubtful if this record could have been compiled.

Mr. Henry Clark's record extends as far as Beaumont Clark, my great-great-great-grandfather; and Mr. Bull's record, as far as Alvin Clark, my great grandfather, and his daughter, Helen Clark. The record in possession of Mrs. A. C. Abbott, of Warren, Illinois, third wife of my great-grandfather, Alvin Clark, begins with dates for Beaumont Clark II, and descendants, but also gives names of his ancestors, as follows: Beaumont Clark, Nathaniel Clark, and John Clark.

All western records, taken from the Alvin Clark Bible at Warren, Illinois, correspond so closely with the eastern records of Mr. Bull and Mr. Clark, as to leave no room for doubt that their record completes ours. The record in the Warren Bible was begun by Beaumont Clark II, father of Alvin Clark, and is very incomplete.

In every instance I have carefully compared the different copies which have come into my possession and have taken every possible precaution against mistakes.

1. The date of birth of John Clarke, emigrant from Great Mundon, England, is not known. He reached Newtowne Mass., in 1632, and died at Milford, Conn., on February 5 1674. He resided successively at Hartford, Saybrook, Norwich, and Milford, Conn. He had four children by his first marriage, and was married a second time to Mrs. Mary Ward Fletcher. They had no children. All that has been learned of his life, from town and church records, has been given in the previous pages.

Children by first marriage:

2. I. John Clarke ii. No date of birth. Married Rebeckah Porter.*
3. II. Joseph Clarke ii. No date of birth. Died at sea, 1663, leaving a wife but no children.
4. III. Elizabeth ii. Married Lieut. Wm. Pratt and settled in what is now Essex.
5. IV. Sarah Clarke ii. Born 1633, died 1721. Married Deacon Simon Huntington, who removed to Norwich in 1660. He was the grandfather of Samuel Huntington who signed the Declaration of Independence.

2. John Clarke ii. (John i), son of John Clarke, the settler, was married to Rebeckah Porter on Oct. 16, 1650. His wife is supposed to have been a daughter of John Porter of Windsor. He was killed by a cart which overturned upon him, Sept. 21, 1677. His widow afterwards married a Spencer and died Jan. 9, 1683 (see Saybrook records).

Children:

6. I. Rebeckah Clarke iii. Born Jan. 20, 1652, died Oct. 14, 1704; married 1674 to Abraham Watrous.
7. II. John Clarke iii. Born Nov. 17, 1655; died Feb. 17, 1735; married Rebeckah Beaumont.*
8. III. James Clarke iii. Born Sept. 29, 1657; died August, 1659.
9. IV. Joseph Clarke iii. Estate settled in 1692.
10. V. Sarah Clarke iii. Died Jan. 25, 1725. Married Samuel Willard June 6, 1683.
11. VI. Samuel Clarke iii. Born Apr. 25, 1675; died

1750. Married Mary Kirtland Dec. 14, 1699.

7. Major John Clarke iii. (John ii, John i), son of John Clarke and Rebeckah Porter Clarke, was born in Saybrook, Conn., Nov. 17, 1655, and died Feb. 17, 1735. He was married Dec. 17, 1684 to Rebeckah Beaumont, born in Saybrook, Conn., Sept. 17, 1659, daughter of Wm. and Lydia Danforth Beaumont. Major John Clarke was a sergeant in King Philip's War, was captain and Major in the French and Indian War, and was in command at Saybrook Fort during the interim. His wife died April 3, 1742.

(Mr. Ballard Clark, Lancaster, N. Y. has these commissions of Lieut. and Capt. and also many other family papers.)

Children:

12. I. Abigail iv. born Sept. 23, 1685; died Feb. 6, 1688.

13. II. Rebeckah iv. born May 25, 1687; died Jan. 20, 1716. Married Apr. 4, 1710 to Judge Samuel Lynde.

14. III. John iv. born June 11, 1689; died Dec. 16, 1777. Married, first, Sarah Jones, May 6, 1712; second, Phebe Nott, in 1759.

15. IV. Joseph iv, born January 16, 1690; died March 12, 1691.

16. V. Joseph iv. born Jan. 23, 1692; died Sept. 10, 1770. Married first Lydia Grenell on Sept. 25, 1712; second, Priscilla _____. Settled in Chester.

17. VI. Nathaniel iv, born July 19, 1694; died Aug. 21, 1772. Married Mary Wrenne or Urenne, a French Huguenot.*

18. VII. Temperance iv. born July 20, 1698; died March, 1705.

19. VIII. Samuel iv. born June 26, 1702; died 1757. Married Mary Minor, July 19, 1722; second, married Mary Jones, daughter of Caleb and Rachel Clark Jones of Farmington, Conn.

John, the first of Major Clarke's sons, settled in what is now Centerbrook, Conn. His children were: John; Temperance, who married Ed. Bull; Sarah; Abigail, who married John Pratt; Jerusha; Hepsibah; John II; and Zerviah. Samuel (the last of Major Clarke's sons) had children -- Samuel, Joanna, Deborah, Stephen, Danforth, Hester, Titus, Mary, Rebeckah, and Patience

17. Nathaniel Clarke iv. (John iii, John ii, John i), son of Major John Clarke and Rebeckah Beaumont Clarke, was born in Saybrook July 19, 1694, and died Aug. 21, 1772. He was married May 10, 1715, to Mary Wrenne, a French Huguenot, born 1690, died December 30, 1754. Nathaniel Clarke was graduated from Yale in 1714 and later prepared for the Episcopalian ministry. He was also a magistrate and a lawyer. He located in that part of Saybrook now called "Mares Hill", Ivoryton, where he owned all the land in sight, and he built one of the earliest sawmills on the stream, in Ivoryton. Mr. Bull wrote: "I have an old account book that belonged to him, in which is a lawyer's plea, and a sermon. He had a negro slave whom he used to hire out."

Children:

20. I. Nathaniel v. born Dec. 23, 1716; died in the French and Indian War, 1759.
21. II. John v. born Jan. 30, 1719; died Jan. 25, 1801. Married, first, Elizabeth Williams; second, Mary Pratt.
22. III. Andrew v. born July 23, 1721; died May 25, 1799. Unmarried.
23. IV. Peter v. born Nov. 14, 1723; died May 8, 1814. Married Thankful Pratt April 17, 1755.
24. V. William v. born 1725; died Sept. 16, 1803. Married, first, Jane Turner, Aug. 27, 1767; and second, Naomi Pratt.
25. VI. George v. born 1729; died July 7, 1798. Married Bathsheba Pratt.
26. VII. Christopher v. born 1736; died Feb. 22, 1820. Married Peninah Nott, Oct. 30, 1766.
27. VIII. Beaumont v. born Dec. 27, 1739; died Sept. 10, 1827. Married Hannah Bull,

May, 1764.*

28. IX. Annah v. married Daniel Clark, July 7, 1766, and Stephen Atwater, June 20, 1781.

Mr. Henry I. Clark, of Saybrook, who has furnished a large part of this record, is a descendant of Peter Clark, as is also Mr. John Bull, of Centerbrook, Conn. Mr. Bull died in 1922. His son, William, has his records.

27. Beaumont Clarke v. (Nathaniel iv, John iii, John ii, John i), son of Nathaniel and Mary Wrenne Clarke was born in Saybrook December 27, 1739, and died Sept. 10, 1827. He was married in May, 1764, to Hannah Bull, daughter of Capt. Edward and Temperance Clarke Bull, born in Saybrook April 23, 1743; died July 24, 1812.

Beaumont Clarke served in the Revolutionary War in Capt. Dan Platt's company, in the seventh Regiment, commanded by Lieut. Col. Wm. Worthington. These militia regiments were in service when called upon, and Beaumont Clarke marched to New Haven, Conn., at the alarm, April 27, 1777. Time of service, five days. This record can be found on page 178, Vol. 8, "Revolution Rolls and Lists" and also on page 361 of "Revolution Lists and Returns".

Children:

29. I. Temperance vi, born August 23, 1764, died November 20, 1846. Unmarried.

30. Captain Beaumont Clarke vi. (Beaumont v, Nathaniel iv, John iii, John ii, John i), son of Beaumont and Hannah Bull Clarke, was born in Saybrook, July 25, 1767, and died October 5, 1857. He was married May 21, 1789 to Abigail Spencer, born in that part of Saybrook now called Westbrook, January 14, 1770, daughter of Joseph and Elizabeth Clark Spencer. Elizabeth Clark Spencer was a daughter of John Clarke shown as No. 21 in this history. Abigail Clarke died January 6, 1843. When Capt. Clarke removed from Saybrook to Essex, Conn., and thence to Syracuse, N. Y., about 1820, he sold his large, two-story house to the town to be used as an Almshouse. Afterwards, when the town was divided, it was sold to Mr. Alpheus Knowles from whom it passed to his two daughters. Later, Capt. Clarke removed to Grass Lake, Mich., where he and his wife died and were buried. A new house now stands on the lot where the old Nathaniel Clarke house once stood in Saybrook. Beaumont Clarke is believed to have been captain of a coasting vessel in southern trade.
